

American Friends of the London School of Economics Scholarships

The American Friends of London School of Economics (AFLSE) will award two to four full tuition scholarships for one year of graduate study to American citizens or permanent residents of the United States. The awards are based on financial need and academic merit. There are no restrictions on age, field of study, or degree. Applicants must have applied to the LSE for admission in order to be considered for an AFLSE scholarship, as an award cannot be made until the applicant is admitted. However, applicants should not wait for an offer of admission to the School before applying for an AFLSE Scholarship. The AFLSE Scholarship Committee conducts its review separately from the School and expects to make its final decision in early April.
